

Foundation Comment

The event in honour of Charles Aznavour, which took place in Neve Shalom Wahat Al-Salam, was a huge success.

The ceremony in the Rescuers' Garden to award a tribute to the singer and his family for their part in saving Armenians and Jews during World War II in occupied Paris was moving and dignified.

Afterwards, we held a Salute Show in honour of 93-year-old Mr. Aznavur.

The speakers included the village secretary Anwar Daud, the head of the Armenian community in Israel Georgette Avachian, France's Ambassador to Israel Helen Le Gal, the professor and member of the village Yair Auron and Charles Aznavour himself. The artistic performance was attended by the school choir under the guidance of Haim Avisror, Achinoam Nini and Gil Dor, and the Armenian singer Ashut Gasparian.

The hundreds of people who came to the tent had a unique experience. The Foundation wishes to thank to Yair Auron, the head of the International Garden of Rescuers, for his great contribution to the evening's success.